DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because the boxes (28 and 60) in Fig. 9 are not labeled. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

3. In Claim 4 there is no antecedent basis for the term "photoelectric transformation part". Appropriate correction is required.
4. Claim 6 is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 3, "first" is misspelled. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 1, 5, 13 - 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yoshimura et al. (US 5,898,477).

The patentees have an illumination system comprised of an apparatus for exposing a substrate 11; a diaphragm with an adjustable aperture 6; a movable photoelectric line sensor 12, 15; the intensity level and measurement locations of the sensed data are stored (col. 6, lines 33-48; col. 7, lines 20-30); the exposure calculator 106 calculates the exposure from the signals or data from the sensors 12, 15; the display 106 (see Figs. 10, 13, 15A, 15B) illustrate the data and calculated exposure; the illumination width (or aperture) is adjusted based on data from the sensors 12, 15 (col. 8, lines 10-46). As disclosed in column 8, the estimated shape is determined and then the aperture is adjusted to obtain the calculated shape. In Figs. 6 and 7, the line sensor 6, 7 is longer in at least one dimension than the maximum diameter of the aperture. The alignment occurs after the measurement using the sensors and before the exposure of the substrate.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 7 – 12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoshimura et al. (US 5,898,477).

The reference does not disclose the guide support means claimed. One of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have recognized that the sensors must be supported and would have which known means would provide the most cost effective, space conserving arrangement known. Using a rack, a belt or rod and screw would be among the choices open to the designer of the system and would have been used for whatever advantage they would provide is the illumination system.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 2 – 4 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2851

10. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The reference does not disclose a sensor that is arranged face to face with the diaphragm, nor a rotary movement to drive the sensor.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references disclose monitoring the illumination of the lithographic exposure apparatus.
